

ABSTRACT

Disclosed is a system and method that collects measurements of network performance metrics and automatically calculates and provides composite variance analysis of such metrics. The system and method can then use history of performance data statistics to alert a user about performance of network services that are outside acceptable tolerance or control limits. The technique exposes subtle deviation from accepted measurement tolerance that can, in turn, be categorized in relation to control limits based on defined standard deviation thresholds.